“CAVANAGH SERVICES GROUP, INC. RECOGNIZED AS ONE OF UTAH’S ‘EMERGING ELITE’ FOR 2005”

Cavanagh Services Group, Inc. has been awarded the prestigious honor of being recognized as one of Utah’s “Emerging Elite” companies by Mountain West Capital Network. Annually since 1995, the Mountain West Capital Network has honored Utah-based companies. The ‘Emerging Elite’ award has been presented to 15 Utah-based companies that have been in business for less than five years and have shown exceptional growth. This award salutes up-and-coming companies with outstanding achievement records and strong potential for long-term success.

“As a small business, you have to be at the top of your game 100% of the time. We have to work twice as hard and be twice as good to succeed.” states Susan P. Rice, President of Cavanagh Services Group, Inc. Since operations began in 2002, Ms. Rice has received multiple awards recognizing her success including the Utah Business Magazine’s 2003 “Risk Taker Award” and the 2005 “Utah Small Business Person of the Year” presented by the U.S. Small Business Administration.

Cavanagh Services Group, Inc. has more than doubled in size since 2002. Cavanagh is a ‘turnkey’ company, providing packaging, transportation and disposal services to its customers in the environmental cleanup industry. Cavanagh is a woman-owned, HUBZone, small business that performs work for both government (Department of Energy, Department of Defense, and Environmental Protection Agency) and commercial projects. The key to Cavanagh Services Group, Inc.’s success is providing cost-effective innovative options to its customers, while maintaining high safety standards and quality customer service.
