“CAVANAGH SERVICES GROUP TWO-TIME RECIPIENT OF UTAH’S ‘EMERGING ELITE’ AWARD”

Cavanagh Services Group, Inc. was recently honored by the Mountain West Capital Network for the second year in a row as one of fifteen businesses valued as Utah’s ‘2006 Emerging Elite’.

This award presented annually, acknowledges Utah-based companies in business less than five years demonstrating remarkable growth and great potential for continued success. Cavanagh Services Group, Inc. received this same award in 2005 presented by Utah Governor, Jon M. Huntsman, Jr.

Susan P. Rice, President of Cavanagh Services Group, Inc. said, “As we reach the completion of Cavanagh’s fourth year in business, this gratifying recognition is positive reinforcement that our company will continue to thrive and experience strong growth.”

Cavanagh contributes its achievement to hard work, dedication and the successful completion of several major closure projects this year including the Mound Closure, the Columbus Closure and Ashtabula Closure Projects in Ohio and the cleanup of the Oak Ridge Legacy Waste in Oak Ridge, Tennessee. Cavanagh’s commitment to environmental cleanup is evident in its effort to support both large scale and small scale waste removal projects. Cavanagh supports both government projects (DOE, DOD, EPA) and commercial industry in environmental and industrial remediation. As an 8(a)/Small Disadvantaged, Woman-owned, HUBZone, small business, Cavanagh is proud to represent the small business community.

The Mountain West Capital Network was founded in 1983 and supports the entrepreneurial success of local business by recognizing and rewarding performance. The Mountain West Capital Network strategy is to foster economic growth through entrepreneurship. More than 90% of all transactions done in Utah have at least one MWCN member involved.
