

SUSAN RICE, FOUNDER AND PRESIDENT, CAVANAGH SERVICES GROUP, INC. named one of Ernst & Young LLP's 2010 Entrepreneurial Winning Women™

Salt Lake City, UT, October 29, 2010 – Cavanagh Services Group, Inc., today announced that Sue Rice, President, was named one of Ernst & Young LLP's 2010 Entrepreneurial Winning Women. Ms Rice is one of 11 exceptional women recognized throughout the country with this prestigious award.

The Entrepreneurial Winning Women program, which is in its third year, is designed to help accelerate the growth of high-potential businesses founded by women entrepreneurs. Launched in 2008, the program is conducted in collaboration with several organizations that empower women-owned businesses, including the Women Presidents' Organization, Women's Business Enterprise National Council, The Committee of 200 and Babson College's Center for Women's Leadership. For more information on the competition and executive leadership program, visit www.ey.com/us/entrepreneurialwinningwomen.

The winners represent a wide variety of industries and were selected from a competitive pool of women entrepreneurs across the US by a distinguished panel of independent judges.

“It is such an honor to be selected by Ernst & Young for this award. To take part in this elite executive leadership program and receive this caliber of mentoring is an extraordinary opportunity,” says Sue Rice on her inclusion in the program.

The Entrepreneurial Winning Women program has a track record of helping leading women entrepreneurs grow their businesses significantly by providing key resources and support.

“Over the past three years, the Entrepreneurial Winning Women program has grown into a highly competitive platform to help women entrepreneurs accomplish the key goals they have for their companies,” said Maria Pinelli, Americas Director, Strategic Growth Markets, Ernst & Young LLP. “Sue is an exceptional business leader with great potential, and we are pleased to honor her as one of this year's winners.”

The 11 Entrepreneurial Winning Women will receive complimentary participation in this year's Ernst & Young Strategic Growth Forum. Dubbed by Forbes.com as one of the "Seven Get-Ahead Executive Retreats,". The Winning Women will be introduced at a special luncheon ceremony and panel at the Strategic Growth Forum. They will also participate in a customized program designed by Ernst & Young to catalyze their companies' growth by building and fostering critical relationships, enhancing leadership skills and expanding business know-how.

Sue Rice is the Founder and President of Cavanagh Services Group, Inc. In 2002, Sue started with one employee and one contract in her home office and has since grown her company to over 50 employees, six national offices and has landed multi-million dollar contracts with Fortune 500 companies worth over $75 million. Ms. Rice has developed Cavanagh Services Group into a competitive, financially strong, woman-owned company that provides project management, logistics services, and waste-to-energy technologies supporting the environmental cleanup and cleantech industries.

Sue is an active member of two national women's professional organizations - Women's President Organization and Women Impacting Public Policy.
